

MADERO TELLS OF GAINS MADE

Insurrectos Win All They Started Fighting For.

REBEL DEBTS ARE TO BE PAID

Diaz and Corral to Resign and Fair Elections to be Held—Provisional President Aids in Pacification.

El Paso, May 22.—Naming the concessions granted the insurrecto army by the federals in their plan of settlement recently agreed to, Francisco I. Madero, provisional president of Mexico, issued another statement.

Madero shows the army that the cause has won all that it started fighting for; that Diaz has agreed to resign, Corral has agreed to resign, and that Mexico is to have a fair election for the first time since Diaz got into power.

He also calls attention to the fact that all insurrecto debts are to be paid, even the I. O. U.'s given by the insurrectos when they seized stocks of goods. They never gave them to their old oppressor, Don Luis Terrazas. All concessions are summed up for the benefit of the insurrectos, whom the provisional president wishes to thoroughly pacify.

He says there is little to discredit the faithfulness of the federals, but besides he says he is going to Mexico City on invitation of the federals to see that these things are carried out.

Madero told a good deal of this to the insurrectos when he delivered a farewell to the officers and men in front of the Juarez monument, on one side of which stands the burned city hall and on the other the burned library, both destroyed during the assault on the town. But later it was put on paper. The insurrectos had largely left, however, when it came out, but it will be sent them at Casas Grandes, where they are gathering in camp to await developments.

They are told by their leader that if all goes well they will soon be sent to their homes to return to the pursuits of peace, but if things do not go well, Chihuahua is next to be taken, and then the "On to Mexico City" cry can be taken up. He does not believe this will be necessary, however.

Six hundred troops were sent south from Juarez to Casas Grandes. They were carried in box cars and appeared happy. The rebel troops remaining behind to garrison the town gathered at the station and cheered them on their way. One carload of departing men were former federals, who have now become faithful insurrectos. Those who did not embrace the insurrecto cause, are now handling pick and shovel on the national line south of here, repairing it through to Chihuahua.

BRIBE INDICTMENT UPHELD

Demurrer of Ohio Legislator Is Overruled by Judge Kinkead.

Columbus, O., May 22.—Judge Kinkead in the criminal court overruled the demurrer to the indictment against the indicted representative, George Nye, charged with soliciting a bribe from State Senator Crawford. Nye's attorney maintained that the use of the word "bribe" in the legal phrase "might be then and there influenced" weakened the charge against his client.

The following witnesses among others have been summoned for the trial of Representative Nye, scheduled for Tuesday. O. V. Holt, West Union; H. H. Schlin, Winchester; Otha Blake, West Union; John Rhoades, Winchester; Judge A. Z. Blair, Portsmouth; John C. Milner, Portsmouth; Urie Sloan, Columbus; Dr. O. J. Elger, Rainsboro; Louis Blauen, West Union; Bert Barlow, Hamilton; George W. Vance, Ironton; Edward Donovan, Waverly; Emmett Dungan, Jackson; James W. Logan, George W. Eagle, W. S. Jones, Dr. O. G. Andre, Professor Frederick Guth and O. C. Emery, all of Waverly.

Des Moines, Ia., May 22.—The heroism of Joseph Howard, a convict doing time at Anamosa for forgery, has secured for him a pardon at the hands of Governor Carroll.

When the boiler in the Anamosa reformatory got beyond control and an explosion was threatened Howard rushed through clouds of escaping steam to the machinery and shut off the steam.

Preaches Sermon In Memory Of Mother

Rev. A. Edward Kelsey, pastor of the Friends Church in Minneapolis, in observing Mothers' Day Sunday, preached a sermon on "Fragrant Motherhood," which was inspired by the memory of his own mother, Mrs. Sarah Atwater Kelsey, who passed away on April 27 and was well known in Ypsilanti and vicinity. His text was taken from a royal Psalm written to celebrate the king's marriage, "All thy garments smell of myrrh and aloes and cassia."

Among the beautiful things said in tribute to motherhood are the following: "The perfume from the life of true mothers pervades the home, the church, the marts of commerce and trade, and we say with the Psalmist, 'All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia.' Those (garments) worn in the kitchen when busied with the humdrum duties of daily life are fragrant with service. Those too that are worn in the parlor and on the street distill fragrance upon the air. Now as royal anointing oil of the Psalmists' day was made of three of the most precious spices of Arabia, even so as I consider the fragrance of true motherhood I find three great virtues blended together, that of courage, sacrifice, constancy. This fragrance that exhalates from the garments of motherhood has held back a child from a life of sin or unbelief. You have some time gone into a room where the air is fragrant with the perfume of flowers which have been removed. Their beauty is not there to cheer the eye, but their fragrance abides. Although to many of us the mother has gone to the Homeland so that her presence no longer brightens the eye, nevertheless the fragrance of her holy life abides, inspiring us with high ideals and unselfish purposes."

GRANGERS DISCUSS FARM MANAGEMENT AND THE PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY

The Ypsilanti Grange held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon in Masonic Temple. Miss Ida Thumm sang two solos and Fred Voorheis played a selection for the flute.

James Welch, in discussing, "Farm Management," confined himself exclusively to a consideration of the soil. The practices which deplete it should be carefully avoided and the fertility be maintained by putting back on the soil a large part of what is taken off from it. "Home Management" was a topic which Mrs. John McDougall treated. She believed that a home was something greater and more significant than a mere house and that the comfort and enjoyment of a family should not be sacrificed to a narrow view of order. "The Power of Responsibility in the Making of a Man" was the next subject and was introduced by Mrs. Reid Darling. The various qualities essential to the making of a responsible man, such as honesty and faithfulness, were in turn considered, and a general discussion followed.

The social meeting on June 3 will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Will Elliott. Supper and a program will be features of the afternoon.

WEBSTER FARMERS ISSUE PROGRAMS FOR COMING YEAR

The complete program for all the meetings of the Webster Farmers' club for the year 1911-1912 has just been issued and is a strong one and highly interesting. The program committee consisted of Miss Julia Ball, Miss Nora Braun and Rev. A. W. Mumford. The officers for the year are: President, George W. Merrill; first vice-president, George P. Wing; second vice-president, Edwin Braun; recording and corresponding secretary, Miss Julia Ball; treasurer, Chas. Jewell; executive committee, Olney Outwater and George P. Wing. The next meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. Adam Braun on June 10.

Driving Club to Meet.

A postponed meeting of the Ypsilanti Driving Club will be held at the Hawkins House Tuesday evening. A program of matinees for the summer will be arranged at this time. The election of officers will also take place at this meeting. A cordial invitation to all interested to be present is extended.

REPRESENTATIVE OF BIBLE SOCIETY AT THE CHURCHES

Presbyterian.

Rev. J. P. Horton spoke Sunday morning and evening at the Presbyterian church in the interests of the American Bible society. He described the vast work involved in having translated the Bible into 500 languages and dialects. One edition had consumed eight years and had been the work of a bishop who was paralyzed except two fingers and used a typewriter for the work. All churches are helped in that the society supplies Bibles in the desired languages for their foreign missionary activities. Even at home these are likewise used, for in Spring Valley, Illinois, alone, there are 15 different nationalities. The collection taken amounted to about $40.

First Baptist.

Rev. Marshall H. Pettit preached Sunday morning in the Baptist church on "The Mystery of Christ." In the evening Rev. J. A. McKee preached in the interests of the American Bible society. The attendance in the evening was not so large.

First M. E.

A collection for the American Bible society was taken some time ago in the First M. E. church, so this week the usual order and character of services were observed. In the evening the pastor, Rev. H. A. Leeson preached a sermon in accord with the season on "The Parable of the Orchard" and in the evening the usual one-hour service was carried out.

Congregational.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning Rev. J. A. McKee presented the cause of the American Bible society. Having himself been a missionary, he spoke in part from that standpoint. He said that the expenditures of the society were $750,000 a year, so it can be seen that even an endowment of $1,000,000 would not adequately meet the needs of the cause. The collection taken amounted to $51.

In the evening Rev. A. G. Beach presented the second sermon in the series on "The Social Awakening," and to illustrate the part women have taken as leaders in this awakening, Mr. Beach treated Jane Addams' "Twenty Years in Hull House."

St. Luke's Episcopal.

Rev. William H. Gardam preached both morning and evening at St. Luke's Episcopal church on "The Ascension." He said in part: "At no point in history can you detach Christ from the world He came to save. 'I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto me.' The life of this very day, lawless as it is, much of it without God and without hope as it is, hard-featured as it had seemed to grow, is yet in the very grip and control of this same Lord and Master and it cannot divorce itself from Him. We represent this Master. We are the very incarnation of His own authority and mission in the world. As He is so are we in this world.' His church is His vitalized and vitalizing Presence in all the living interests that make up the life of man."

CHURCH SOCIETIES AND MEETINGS FOR THE WEEK

The Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Episcopal church will hold the last meeting of the year on Thursday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock with Miss Alice Gilbert. Several speakers will be out from Detroit for the occasion.

Mrs. M. G. Wood will entertain the Congregational Foreign Missionary society on Thursday. The leader will be Mrs. Leverett.

The Wednesday evening mid-week service at the Congregational church will be under the leadership of Prof. W. P. Bowen. The teachers and officers of the Sunday school will engage in a discussion on the question, "Uniform versus graded lessons."

The Missionary Circle of the First Baptist church will meet with Mrs. W. P. Stone, 108 Huron St., on Thursday.

The B. Y. P. U. will give on Friday evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. Marshall H. Pettit, an amateur oratorical contests. Both old and young will take part and there will be great variety in the work presented. A silver collection will be taken for the benefit of the local society.

The district meeting of the Methodist church will be held in Deerfield on Thursday and Friday of this week. Mrs. C. T. Allen and Mrs. H. A. Leeson will go as delegates.

The Epworth League of Cherry Hill will meet Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. George Gill for a social meeting.

On Thursday evening at 7 o'clock there will be ascension day services at the German Lutheran church.

HORSE THROWS YOUNG RIDER--INJURIES NOT SERIOUS

William Hayes, a ten year old lad whose home is at 14 E. Cross St., met with an accident while out riding horseback Sunday which luckily for him did not prove fatal.

William secured one of J. E. Engel's horses and in company with another lad had started up Cross street. Mr. Engel intended to go with them but they started on ahead of him. The horse was going at quite a rapid gait and when it reached the Huron street corner it slipped on the pavement and fell. It quickly righted itself dragging the boy whose foot was caught in the stirrup for a distance of about five rods. The boy is severely bruised about the arms and limbs but it is thought that no bones were broken. The horse turned and started for the Engel barn where it was caught later with a few bruises and scratches but otherwise uninjured.

FAMILY PICNIC SUNDAY ENDS WITH A SAD ACCIDENT

Donald Davis, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Davis, was drowned while bathing in the Huron river at Scio, Sunday noon. The Davis family were holding a family picnic on the bank of the river and had been joined by the Johnson children near whose farm they were staying. The 8-year-old Johnson boy and the 7-year-old Davis boy went in wading while the other Davis boy went in swimming.

It is thought that the child was taken with cramps or stepped in a deep hole although it is not definitely known. He sank to the bottom and did not rise. The body was in the water about twenty minutes before it was recovered. Efforts were made to resuscitate the lad but it was too late. The parents are heart broken over the tragedy.

MINISTER SLAIN BY AEROPLANE

Startling Tragedy on French Aviation Field.

PREMIER MONIS FATALLY HURT

Train, New Aviator, Flying in Steel Monoplane, Swoops Suddenly Down in Midst of Group of Notables.

Paris, May 22.—Henri Maurice Berteaux, minister of war, was killed and Antoine Ernest Monis, premier and minister of the interior, is thought to be dying as the result of the start of the Paris aviation race at the drill ground at Issy Les Moulinsaux at dawn.

In the cold of the morning 50,000 French with the holiday spirit awaited the start.

The first away was Naval Lieutenant Conneau, flying under the pseudonym of Andre Beaumont, because he is on leave of absence. He ascended at 5:10. He was followed by Roland G. Garros, who has just returned from flying in the United States, who in turn was followed by Gilbert. All were using Bleriot machines.

The crowd was cheering the men who had got away when in the clearing morning light, Train, the new aviator, was seen to be approaching the drill ground with a passenger, Bonner, in his machine. He was flying a steel monoplane built and patented by himself, and as he circled to try his motor it was to be seen that something was wrong.

As Train arose the premier, the minister of war and the other notables, not being able to see from the stand of honor, moved nearer to the starting line. The crowd followed.

The crash was tremendous and it was necessary to call for another squadron of cuirassiers to ride upon the field and keep back the throng. Train was shutting off his motor and preparing to alight directly over the horsemen as they rode upon the field. In order to avoid striking the cuirassiers, Train shot into the air again. He was unable to see the group of notables just on the other side of the cavalry. Having cleared the cuirassiers Train started toward the earth again and dashed headlong into the crowd beyond.

Minister of War Berteaux was dead ahead of the machine. The propeller caught his right arm, which he had raised to fend off the blow, and in a second had torn the member from the body. M. Berteaux was killed instantly.

Premier Monis was hurled beneath the machine and was unconscious when lifted from the ground. Both bones of his right leg and all of the bones of his nose were broken, his scalp was frightfully torn, and upon examination it was found that he was suffering from internal injuries in the abdominal region. He was carried at once to his home.

The body of the dead war minister was taken to the ministry. The torn arm was sewn on and the body embalmed.

Premier Monis is reported to be bearing up bravely and though suffering intensely, he insisted on signing several urgent state papers, and although the race was ordered discontinued, M. Monis commanded that it go on.

Henry Maurice Berteaux, socialist millionaire and clever man of affairs, was a native of Saint Les Fossee, France, born June 3, 1852.

Premier Monis is a lawyer, the owner of important vineyards, and a man whose influence has been felt in politics for almost thirty years. Monis is a big man physically, with phlegmatic good humor and an inability to make up his mind with any particular rapidity.

He comes from the Gironde, where he was born in 1846.

VETERANS FOREGO MEMORIAL PLANS

The G. A. R. at their meeting Friday evening decided, in view of the fact that the city is so shortly to do a great deal for them in the way of helping them through with encampment plans, that they would not ask them to furnish carriages, as has been their custom, to convey them to Highland cemetery on Memorial Day to decorate the graves. Neither would they have elaborate exercises or any parade. Instead, they will go through the ritual at their own hall, and then a committee appointed for the purpose will go to Highland and do the decorating for all. The G. A. R. have been invited to the Methodist church for May 28, and Rev. H. A. Leeson will deliver the sermon for the occasion.

"SWAT THE FLY," BUT BANISH ITS BREEDING PLACES.

The campaign for the extermination of the common house fly is a most commendable one, viewed from the standpoint of personal comfort and public health and safety. As a disease carrier the fly is about the best suited vehicle yet discovered. It has more appendages especially suited to the adhering of disease germs from filth, which the fly by nature frequents, than any other living thing so far as we know. And, having gotten so many disease germs from the filth which he frequents many times a day, he proceeds to fly to the baby's nursing bottle, to the food displayed for sale along our public streets and in our stores, and into the houses if possible and proceeds to light upon the food we are to eat at the next meal. If he isn't actually crawling over the very food placed before us to eat, we are fortunate.

We are heroically fighting for the extermination of disease. The Panama Canal was not possible of construction until the mosquito was exterminated on the Isthmus in the Canal Zone. And the extermination, typhoid fever and all diseases the germs from which can be carried by one person to another, should have the cooperating influence of all interested citizens; and all should be interested in the personal and common protection in the extermination of those insects like the mosquito and the fly which are the commonest conveyors of these germs.

There is one question perhaps in this campaign which is not receiving the attention which its importance deserves. In our common determination to "swat the fly," we are apt to forget that the fly, as has been aptly said, is a "danger signal," to indicate the presence of unsanitary conditions, and that it is these conditions—at least as much as the fly itself—against which we must wage war. The garbage pile and the manure pile are the most frequent breeding places for the common house fly. Every householder can bury his garbage during that part of the year when the fly is here in his garden. If he goes systematically about it, he will get considerable fertilizing value from this garbage, and if he will empty it into a hole 12 to 18 inches deep and cover it up as quickly as it is put in with a reasonable thickness of dirt, there will be no flies bred there. He will have no unpleasant odor about his home while waiting for the garbage man to appear, and he will improve the fertility of his garden the while. Unless the manure pile, which is permitted to accumulate by those who keep horses, is disposed of similarly—that is, spaded into the garden from day to day—the public will probably through its control over the public health be required to pass and enforce some regulatory measures. One manure pile in a block can counteract all of the best endeavors of every other citizen in that block to exterminate the house fly.

Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture, makes this suggestive remark: "The house fly breeds only in fermenting organic matter. Its larvae therefore acts to a certain extent as scavengers. The larvae moving in an extremely moist mass accelerates putrefaction and helps the spread of the putrefactive germs throughout the substance." But we must remember that while they are helpful agents in a way by hastening putrefaction and fermentation, they find a breeding place in this very unhealthy atmosphere. So we must remember, as the state entomologist for New Jersey Dr. John C. Smith, says: "The campaign is not so much against the fly as it is against the conditions which require the presence of the fly as a natural scavenger. The fly is man's good friend and a necessity so long as man is a filthy animal. When he becomes a clean pig, the flies will naturally disappear."

One good thing about this campaign is that it is a purely practical matter. Everybody can take a hand in it, and if he doesn't take a hand in it, he will be compelled to use both hands to protect himself from the pest. Self-preservation being the first law of nature, it ought not to be difficult to secure the cooperation of everybody in the screening of their homes against the fly, in the screening by merchants of their food products offered for sale from the flies, in the burying of the garbage as rapidly as it accumulates and the removal of the stable manure each day as it accumulates, and the screening of the stable and the receptacle where the manure is thrown when the stable is cleaned. Let us talk it over, amongst ourselves and our neighbors and then go about it individually and collectively to act it out. Let the 10,000 boys in blue go away from Ypsilanti saying it was the cleanest city they've ever seen. It will be a mighty good ad and the condition which prompts it a mighty good life-preserver.

SCIENTISTS ADVISE RULES FOR PROTECTION FROM THE FLY

TYPES OF TRAPS RECOMMENDED FOR GENERAL PREVENTION OF THE DANGEROUS FLY PEST.

The cuts in this article were made available to the Ypsilanti Press through the courtesy of LaFollette's Magazine, which illustrated an article on the fly nuisance in its issue of April 15.

The Anti-Fly Crusade, with headquarters in Detroit, Michigan, furnish the following rules for dealing with the fly nuisance:

Screen all the window and doors, especially the kitchen and dining room.

Keep the flies away from the sick, especially those ill with contagious diseases. Kill every fly that strays into the sick room. His body is covered with disease germs.

Do not allow decaying material of any kind to accumulate on or near your premises.

All refuse which tends in any way to fermentation, such as bedding, straw, paper waste and vegetable matter should be disposed of or covered with lime or kerosene oil.

Screen all food.

Keep all receptacles for garbage carefully covered and the cans cleaned or sprinkled with oil or lime.

Keep all stable manure in vault or pit, screened or sprinkled with lime, oil or other cheap preparation.

Cover food after a meal; burn or bury all table refuse.

Screen all food exposed for sale.

Don't forget, if you see flies, their breeding place is in nearby filth. It may be behind the door, under the table or in the cuspidor.

If there is no dirt and filth there will be no flies.

If there is a nuisance in the neighborhood write at once to the Health Department.

The literature on this subject states that flies are the most dangerous insects we have. They are much more dangerous than bees or hornets, which can only sting painfully. Doors and windows, fitted with screens early in the season, are an effective way of protecting the household from the mischief which flies may do. The Anti-Fly Crusade urges that children be taught not to buy candy or fruit that has been left in front of stores or any where else where the flies may walk across it.

An abundance of flies, it is believed, indicates a house not quite clean, and old cans and garbage left about premises quite distinctly a visitation of the pests later on. Cleanliness and screens and vigilance are excellent weapons with which to fight this disagreeable nuisance.

time to look up all of those points the land is likely to advance in value so fast that we will be heavy losers as a result." In reply to such a statement the writer would still urge the prospective buyer to use the greatest caution on all of the points mentioned, for it's a whole lot cheaper to spend a few dollars in car fare, board and laundry bills than to tie up a property which may be worth little or nothing and which could not be sold later for love or money. It is so easy to fall a victim of the land and dollar lust, to let eagerness run away with judgment and greed outvoice good sense. Because of this we caution our readers who may be thinking of investing in fruit land in a new country to keep their eyes open and play safe.

CONTAGIOUS ABORTION.

When a dairyman runs about of contagious abortion he's up against a bacterial snag of the stiffest kind. This means that the stables and other quarters where such cows have been kept must be thoroughly cleaned, sprayed with a 1 to 1,000 solution of corrosive sublimate and whitewashed. In the course of a week or ten days the quarters should be given another spraying with the corrosive sublimate. All suspected cows should be separated from the well ones, and those that have lost their calves should be washed out daily with a 1 per cent solution of creolin or lysol, the treatment being continued until all discharges stop. Pregnant cows should be given a tablespoonful of sodium hypophosphite daily in the form of a drench. If cows abort in pasture or feed lot the fetus and all accompanying matter should be burned or buried deep and the spot heavily limed, as above indicated. Bulls that have been in an aborting herd should not be allowed with healthy cows, but should be disinfected by the same method prescribed for the cows.

21,000 BUSHELS OF BUGS.

One of the most thorough bird students of New England has recently compiled some statistics that will be intensely interesting to bird lovers and should cause many who have been indifferent to the insect problem and deaf to arguments in favor of bird protection pause and ponder. By carefully estimating the number of birds found in several areas in the Bay State he concludes that there are not less than five insect eating birds per acre. This means that on the 8,000 square miles of area Massachusetts has a bird population of 25,800,000. On the assumption that each bird consumes on an average of 100 insects daily—and this is conservative—it means that the combined force of birds consumes the huge total of 2,580,000,000 insects daily. Assuming, as this authority does, that 120,000 insects will fill a bushel measure, the daily ration of this company of birds is 21,000 bushels! This for Massachusetts. What would the figures be for the country as a whole?

THE PROFIT IN SPRAYING.

The Nebraska experiment station has answered quite effectively the question, "Does it pay to spray?" in experiments which have been conducted in different localities in the state during the past five years. A bulletin recently issued containing a summary of these experiments shows that the average net gain per acre as a result of spraying trees was $64.55 after deducting the cost of spraying. It was found that sprayed trees yielded 220 bushels per acre of marketable fruit and fifty-five bushels of culls and windfalls, while unsprayed trees produced per acre ninety bushels of marketable fruit and eighty-five bushels of culls and windfalls.

SHOULD PLAY SAFE.

A reader of these notes living at Princeton, Ind., writes making inquiry as to the suitability of a certain western valley lately opened up for fruit growing and asking if this particular valley was included in a reference which recently appeared in these columns, suggesting that it would be well for the postoffice department to round up the large company of real estate swindlers who are separating unsuspecting people from hundreds of thousands of their hard earned dollars. Yes; some of these same sharpers are already at work in the valley referred to, and it would be well for intending purchasers to use due caution. As has been stated repeatedly in these notes, there are several things that buyers of fruit land in a new country should do. First, find out from the horticultural experts at the state agricultural college whether a given valley or section in such state is adapted to the raising of the fruits which real estate agents claim it is; secondly, if in a dry country, find out what the rainfall is from the nearest government weather station and whether if needed water for irrigation can be had at that season of the year when most needed—July and August; thirdly, whether the district is subject to frosts during blossom time; fourthly, whether the soil is sufficiently deep and suited to fruit growing; and, lastly, whether the men backing a given orchard promotion proposition are honest men who expect to continue residents of the locality or are downright knaves who will light out for greener pastures when they have extracted from the confiding buyer his hard earned coin. Many a reader will say to himself, "Oh, this is too much bother, and, besides, if we take the

An egg sucking dog can be cured of the habit by giving the offender an egg doped with ipecac. This is done by making a small hole in one end, removing a part of the white and putting in the place of it half a teaspoonful of the powdered drug. This should be mixed with contents of the egg by means of a small stick or wire, the egg wiped off, hole pasted over with a bit of muslin and left where the "sucker" can get at it.

A Reader Cures His Constipation—Try it Free

Simple way for any family to retain the good health of all its members

The editors of "Health Hints" and "Questions and Answers" have one question that is put to them more often than any other, and which, strangely enough, they find the most difficult to answer. That is "How can I cure my constipation?"

Dr. Caldwell, an eminent specialist in diseases of the stomach, liver and bowels has looked the whole field over, has practiced the specialty for forty years and is convinced that the ingredients contained in what is called Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the best claim to attention from constipated people.

The success in the cure of stubborn constipation has done much to displace the use of salts, waters, strong cathartics and such things. Syrup Pepsin, by training the stomach and bowel muscles to again do their work naturally, and with its tonic ingredients strengthening the nerves, brings about a lasting cure. Among its strongest supporters are Mr. John Gravey of 98 Milwaukee Ave., Detroit, Mich., Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and thousands of others. It can be obtained of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, or if you want to try it first a free sample bottle can be obtained by writing the doctor.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

FARM HOUSE UP IN ICELAND

Typical Structure of Turf in the Guest Room of Which Was an Organ Made in Vermont.

The guest room contained a narrow bed, a big round table and an organ made in Brattleboro, Vt. Our host produced the usual box of snuff, and with it a box of good cigars.

The host and hostess then showed us all over the house. It is a turf structure and is typical of the older farm-houses, with narrow, dark, windowless corridors, in labyrinthine maze from room to room. One passageway leads to a large open mound where a fire is made to smoke meat and fish, and incidentally the whole house and everything in it. Another passage leads to another kitchen with a modern stove. The walls are all of turf, as is the roof, with just enough driftwood in the roof to make a framework to hold it in place. Very steep stairs lead up to the badstofa, or sleeping apartment. The badstofa frequently forms the sitting and common work room of the family, especially in winter, as well as the sleeping room of the entire household.

Bunks built into the wall extend around the room and are often filled with seaweed or feathers, over which is thrown a fold or two of wadmal and a thick coverlet of elderdown. The floors are sometimes covered with boards, but more often consist of damp earth. From the ceiling are suspended numerous articles of domestic economy, while large chests containing clothing and valuables are scattered throughout the house.—Springfield Republican.

Hoops for Children.

The opinion is expressed by men who have made a study of exercises for health, that it is a pity the skipping-rope and hoop have gone out of fashion for children.

It is suggested they are more excellent mediums for the physical development than bicycles and roller skates. The fact that small children are allowed to have bicycles, and consequently make no use of nature's means of progression, is offered as an objection to them.

The skipping-rope and hoop require them to run and walk. Young children should be encouraged to do this as much as possible, and always with a springy step. They need to use their feet and legs, and exercise that brings these into play is beneficial.

GOING TO MORNING SERVICE
Some of the Things a Woman Has to Do Before She Gets Started.

After a woman has done up the Sunday morning work, cleaned the children and gotten dinner under way so that it will not take so long upon her return, put on her hat, and given final instructions to her husband about watching the children, and kissed them all good-bye, she finds when she reaches the corner that she has still another task to perform. "Go back," she screams, waving her prayer book at him. The dog stops. "Go back, I say," she says, stamping her foot. The dog looks hurt. Then she starts toward it, and the dog turns as if it never intended to stop going the other way.

The woman starts again for church, goes a few steps and then turns around in sudden suspicion to find the dog just behind her, as happy and hopeful of winning her approval as when he first sets out. The woman rages. She throws stones which never hit him, and the dog flees, and is soon out of sight. But he is only behind the next stone wall peering after her, and when he sees that she is again on her way, he loopes after her, with his calm undisturbed. This time, when the woman sees him, she turns home in despair.

"You'll just have to keep this dog home," she says, rushing into the house. "I don't see what you'll keep the horrid brute for, anyway."

The husband calls the dog in, and the dog knows there is no fooling with his master, and obeys. And he knows also that by his master his attentions are never misunderstood. It would spoil the church services for the woman if she knew that there is a sympathy between a man and a dog never so apparent as when they are left in this way together on a Sunday morning.—Atlanta Constitution.

Diplomatic Rebuke.

A little known story of the Jewish race in Portugal is told of King Joseph I. of that country. On one occasion the king ordered that all Portuguese who were in any way allied to or descended from the Hebrew race should wear yellow hats. The old Marquis de Pombal, then minister in chief, shortly afterward appeared at court with three yellow hats under his arm. The king smiling, asked him: "What are you doing with these?"

The marquis replied: "I have them in obedience to your majesty's command, for I really do not know a single Portuguese of note who has not Jewish blood in his veins."

"Cut," insisted the king, "why three hats?"

"One is for myself," answered the marquis, "one for the inquisitor general by your side, and one is, in case your majesty should desire to be covered."

JAP BALL TEAM LOOKS VERY GOOD

Oriental Play Better Game of Baseball Than Is Imagined.

MADE CHICAGO BOYS HUSTLE.

Although Defeated, Waseda University Team Put Up Fast and Clever Exhibition—Players Are Small—Game Popular in Flowery Kingdom.

"Waseda! Waseda! Waseda, sa! Da wassy! Da wassy, sa! Wassy, sa!" It sounds even worse than it looks reduced to writing. It is the Waseda university yell. The college baseball players from Japan emit it before taking the field. Diamond fans in Chicago recently had the pleasure of listening to it when the Japanese ball tossers tackled the University of Chicago team and were defeated. Although the oriental exponents of America's own pastime did not win, they surprised the fans by putting up a fast and clever brand of ball. Omura, who pitched the entire nine innings, was there with a steady wing and arm motion that fooled his opponents repeatedly. He fielded well, fanned two Maroons and held Chicago to seven hits. Oi at first base, Ohara at second, Omachi at short and Fukubori at third all starred in the infield in spots, while Yamaguchi was clever behind the bat. Mikami, Iseda and Yawata in the gardens were there with heady fielding. The Japs will play several other college teams in this country before they return home next fall.

Some seven years ago Waseda university sent a baseball team to America. That was practically the start of the American pastime in the home of the mikado. Today baseball is on a different scale. Players no longer wear the Japanese tabi or sock, but are equipped with the regulation spiked shoe. Baseball gloves, masks and other paraphernalia are made after the American patterns by home manufacturers, and the spitball and the squeeze play are as familiar terms to the Japanese college chap as to the schoolboy who adorns the San Francisco bleacher section.

They are still lacking somewhat, so they admit, in the art of pitching and batting, but if they learn as fast in the next seven years as they have in the past they will be wonders, easily capable of meeting the best amateur teams in this country.

Waseda's delegation is in charge of A. Takasugi, a professor of English in his home institution as well as a graduate of Northwestern college and a teacher for several years at De Pauw, Indiana.

Professor Abe, known throughout Japan as the "father of baseball," because it was he who practically gave the sport a start, was unable to come, occupied as he is with his faculty work and the worries involved as president of the baseball association.

Generally speaking, the Japanese have a team of small men. The "giant" in the crowd is Oi, captain last year and first sacker this season. Oi measures about five feet nine inches in height and looks to tip the scales at 175 pounds. The midget, on the other hand, is Omachi, who plays shortstop and blushing admits to five feet three inches and a poundage in comparison. The balance of the men straggled in between these two sizes, with a tendency toward the smaller one. This team is captained by Matsuda.

ARE THERE ANY RECORDS LEFT FOR LAJOIE?

Larry Lajoie of the Cleveland Indians says he is out for more batting and fielding marks this year. Records already held by Larry are as follows: In 1908 he accepted 988 chances at second base, the greatest number of chances ever handled by a major league second baseman in one season. In 1904 Larry cracked out fifty-two base hits, a high water mark for doubles in the majors. In 1903 Larry made forty-three three-base hits, the greatest number of triples ever made by any major league batter in one season. To top this off, in 1905 Larry had a fielding average of .991, the best ever made by a major leaguer at the second sack.

TENNEY ANOTHER COME-BACK.

Manager of Boston Nationals Playing Great Game at Initial Station.

Fred Tenney is making a good start in his efforts to substantiate his declaration that a baseball player can "come back." When he accepted the management of the Boston club he said he would play first base and prove that his days in baseball were not over. So far he has made good his assertion, as he has been setting a fast pace for his youngsters to follow.

Tenney's work at first base and at the plate has created a surprise, especially in Boston. It was thought there he would not do for active infield work owing to his having been sent to the minors from New York on account of bad legs. But the Boston fans are beginning to think they were wrong. Tenney has given them every reason to think so.

Tenney does not appear to be as fast as when he was regarded as the premier first sacker of the National League. In spite of this he is speedy enough to hold down the base and do as well as any one of the first basemen Boston has had since he quit the club before.

INTERNATIONAL MEET.

Yale and Harvard Teams to Clash With Oxford and Cambridge.

An international varsity meet in which the combined athletic teams of Yale and Harvard will line up against those of Oxford and Cambridge will be held on the Queen's club grounds in July, the American challenge having been definitely accepted by the British universities.

July 6 has been suggested as the date of the meet, but this may be changed for a day a little earlier or later in order that it may not clash with other events of the month.

Korean Rain Hats.

Korea looks alicance at western ideas and inventions. This is strikingly shown by the immense rain hats worn by the farmers' wives while working in the fields during the rainy season. Through superstition no umbrella nor other waterproof garment is ever employed. The cultivation of rice is the main occupation of the country folk, and while the women have to stand nearly all day in a foot or more of water planting and gathering rice, yet they are extremely afraid of a short downpour of rain, and at the first signs of a storm they at once rush for their great rain hats. These extraordinary coverings are often more than seven feet long by five feet broad, and fully protect the wearer from a wetting. They are made from a combination of thickly-woven hair and a tough, fibrous plant.

A GREAT PHYSICIAN
What He Said of Germs that Cause Disease

M. Pasteur, sometimes called the Greatest physician often said: "I believe that we shall one day rid the world of all diseases that are caused by germs."

Of all the diseases caused by germs, catarrh is one of the most persistent and loathsome. Catarrh can be cured, but only by destroying the germs.

Breathe HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) and cure catarrh by killing the germs. The HYOMEI method is the only sensible method, because you breathe the highly antiseptic and germ killing air directly over the entire membrane infested with catarrh germs.

HYOMEI will cure catarrh. There may be some complicated cases where it will fail, but the chances are ten to one in its favor, and the sufferer from catarrh takes no risk, because HYO-MEI is a guaranteed remedy, and if it doesn't cure, Duane Spaulsberry will refund the purchase price.

HYOMEI will also give instant relief and cure bronchitis, coughs, colds and croup. A complete outfit, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00. If you now own a Hyomei inhaler you can get a bottle of HY-OMEI for 50 cents.

REPORT OF CONTINENTAL CONGRESS FEATURES D. A. R. MEETING-ELECTION

The Ypsilanti Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution held its annual meeting Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Mary B. Goddard. It was the largest attendance there had been at any meeting for years. It was decided that a study of local history should occupy the society for the year 1911-1912.

The election resulted in the following ladies being chosen: Regent, Dr.
Alma Blount; vice-regent, Mrs. P. R.
Cleary; secretary, Mrs. Arthur Sullivan; treasurer, Mrs. P. W. Carpenter; registrar, Miss Geraldine Gray; historian, Mrs. Esther Johnson; new member of executive committee, Mrs.
Mary B. Goddard; delegates to the annual state conference in Detroit in October, Dr. Blount, Mesdames Cleary, Hatch, Johnson, Childs, and Ainsworth.

Mrs. William B. Hatch gave a report of the 20th Continental Congress of the Daughters of the Revolution in Washington which she attended as a delegate from the local chapter. 1,053 were present to cast votes, while there were over 2,000 visiting daughters. It was considered one of the most heated sessions ever held, the question at issue being the matter of the radical element continuing in control or the conservative being put into power.
The administration won as it had for a dozen years, but it is thought that at the end of two years, when a change may be considered again, that the conservative faction will win over the administration.

Miss Abba Owen played a violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Owen at the piano.

LYNCH NEGRO PREACHER

Mob of Georgia White Men Riddles Body with Bullets.

Leader of Colored People Had Shot
Deputy Marshal While Resisting Arrest.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 22.—Rev. Ben Smith, the aged leader of the negro race in this section, was hanged to the limb of a tree and his body riddled with bullets by a mob of white men because he wounded Deputy Marshal Canady.

Smith had had trouble with his young wife and the latter had complained to the authorities. Deputy Marshal Canady went to the Smith home to arrest the preacher. The latter resisted and shot the officer, inflicting a serious wound.

Smith fled, but was pursued by a posse with bloodhounds and was captured about daylight in a swamp near the town. He was brought back to town and hanged to a tree in sight of his home.

Smith was very old, being white headed and toothless, but for years his word had been law to the negro population. He was noted for his oratory.

While the mob was chasing him, unknown parties dynamited the negro Odd Fellows Hall, entirely destroying it.

Smith is the second negro to be lynched in a week, the other being John McLeod, who killed Deputy Sheriff Woods. The lynchings and use of dynamite have terrorized the negroes and many are fleeing. A general exodus is threatened, which will work great damage to the planters.

Commits Suicide with Gas.

New York, May 22.—Ex-Magistrate
James G. Tighe of Brooklyn was found dead in his bedroom, at 183 Bergen street. He was holding the end of a gas tube in his hands, and the room, with doors and windows closed, was filled with gas.

ANN ARBOR ACTOR RETURNS
AFTER SUCCESSFUL SEASON
WITH TRAVELING SALESMAN

Ann Arbor, May 20.—Frank McIntyre has arrived in Ann Arbor from New York for his annual summer outing. Mr. McIntyre closed his sea-
